THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

A week ago in this column an outline of the three immediate goals of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce was outlined, and the desirability of all citizens backing the chamber in its endeavor was urged. The objectives are (1) to aid the Tahoe National Forest staff to find suitable acreage for a new headquarters here, (2) to improve the Nevada City Airport facilities to meet the Civil Aeronautics Administration standards and (3) to aid the Veterans of Foreign Wars to obtain a Veterans Memorial Building for Nevada City.

The chamber has been for some months past making a survey of available acreages in this vicinity that would meet the requirements of the forest service for headquarters, shops and residences for staff members. Such a tract has been found which probably satisfies the most important conditions. In the meantime, due to the parsemonious doling out of funds by congress to the forest service, a review of conditions affecting administration and care of all national forests in California is in progress with the hope of making such adjustments as will make the scanty funds available cover its pressing needs.

As regards the airport, the chamber has gotten in touch with a contractor equipped with all necessary earth moving machinery, who is willing to take off the hump and fill in the hollow of the east and west runway for the relatively small sum of $2,000. The chamber has appealed to the Nevada City Council for the money to improve the city's own airport. At the meeting of the city council Tuesday night no action on the matter taken. There is $12,000 in the city treasury but it is sently in the city treasury, but it is claimed that the increase in city employes at increased salaries and wages, and other contingencies, make it imperative to keep this sum in the bank.

In a letter to Ray Kronemeyer, executive manager of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, Clair Engle, representative of this district, in congress, writes:

"In further reference to our previous communications regarding an airport in the Grass Valley-Nevada City area: I have received an informal report from the C. A. A. on the matter.

"The report, which was made as a result of a trip by plane over the area: follows in part:

"Taking everything into considerationn, the Nevada City site, although a little short, stacks up as the best of the lot. Loma Rica is probably as good, if not a shade better, aeronautically—but loses stature in the face of other factors including location and probable cost not to mention unavailability except by condemnation, if we've been advised correctly). Grass Valley's site just west of town, notwithstanding claims of a possible mile—long runway (which doesn't show up from the air at 120 mph), is definitely a poor third."

The proposal and planning of a Veterans Memorial Building in Nevada City must come from veterans organizations. In the planning for such a building their needs of course are paramount, but we do believe that its use should follow the policy that governs use—Veterans Memorial Building, Grass Valley, which not only fills the requirements of war veterans but provides a wide margin of use as a community center. After all, in this era of total wars, all citizens who survive are, in a sense, veterans. Mothers who gave up their sons to war service and fathers who help weld war weapons, played important roles in the war effort even though not in uniform. Since the cost of a veterans memorial comes out of the pockets of all of us, we feel that after meeting the requirements of veterans organizations the building should serve the rest of the community.

We think that whatever plan the veterans present, they should give consideration to such things as ample parking space, noting that back of the Grass Valley building there is plenty of room for parking but, still, on gala nights, the streets for several blocks must be used for parking purposes. This would indicate the need for a considerable area for parking adjacent to the building. We have no recommendation to make but merely suggest that there are at least a half dozen sites in and around Nevada City which could be made available. The only proper role the chamber can play in this project, is to back up the veterans organizations when they decide on what they want.

We understand that the way is now open for the erection of a veterans building for Nevada City. Both Truckee and Grass Valley now have their veterans buildings and they have been paid for. It would seem opportune, with hundreds of war veterans returning to the county, that in Nevada City a building should be erected primarily for their use.

S. P. AND FOREST SERVICE IN PACT ON FIRE HAZARDS

Plans for renewing the annual cooperative agreement for the removal of hazardous material along the railroad right of way were discussed at a meeting of Southern Pacific and Tahoe national forest representatives.

Some fifty miles of the Southern Pacific railroad crosses the Tahoe national forest. The past five years the Southern Pacific Company nas worked on a cooperative plan with the U. S. Forest service to remove the hazardous brush and grass adjacent to their tracks in an effort to prevent forest fires and to improve the appearance of their right of way. Excellent results have been obtained as a result of this work. This years plans were discussed to increase the amount of work to be done, anticipating the elimination of all fires due to railroad operation and to further improving the scenic beauty of the right of way.

Present at the meeting were: From the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, Sacramento District superintendent, M. L. Jennings, District Engineer W. S. Turner and Roadmaster A. I. Stackhouse of the Norden Section. From the forest service were Truckee ranger, Hobart Snider, Big Bend ranger, Max Williamson and fire control officer, R. E. Dasmann from the forest superintendents office at Nevada City.

Sheriff's Posse Day At County Fair Requested

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen stated yesterday that he has asked the county board to set aside one day of the 17th District Agricultural Fair in Watt Park this fall as Sheriff's Posse Day.

The sheriff declared that if this were done he believed it possible to inaugurate a rodeo feature that would grow into a spectacular part of the annual fair. He stated that many of the ranchers in the western section of the county who own and often breed fine saddle horses, would have an opportunity to display their riding stock.

He stated that it might be worth while for the directors of the state fair of Sacramento to set aside a day for all the sheriff's posses in California.

Public Forum To Open March 26th

Edward Frantz, vice principal of the Nevada City high school, yesterday announced that plans have been matured for opening a public forum on March 26th, as has been done at the season for several years past.

The schedule provides for a lecture by Steven Barooshian Placer Junior College on the topic of Winning the Peace, on March 26th; Dr. Malcolm Eisenlen, College of the Pacific, on the topic Congress, What Is the Matter With It? April 2nd; and Harold Weaver on The Atomic Bomb, April 9th. No speaker yet has been secured for the last date, April 23rd. Each lecture will be followed by discussion of the topic by the audience.

Elizabeth A Pearson, mailman, second class of Nevada City was discharged recently at the naval personnel separation unit, Balboa Park, San Francisco.

Marion Rudkin Weds Gerald Mann

Miss Marion Frances Rudkin and Gerald Mann of Sacramento were married Sunday afternoon, March 10 in the Methodist Church in Grass Valley by Rev. H. J. Richards of Sacramento assisted by Rev. Jesse Rudkin, pastor of the church and uncle of the bride.

Because of her father's illness the bride was given away by her uncle. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Rudkin of Glenbrook Heights near Grass Valley.

Mrs. Don Jonte of San Francisco was matron of honor and bridesmaid was the sister of the bride, Miss Virginia Rudkin. Best man was Wayne Mullin of Sacramento and ushers were Mahlon and Walter Smith and Ralph Rudkin, brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a white chiffon with three quarter length sleeves and a finger tip veil. Her bouquet was of sweet peas and gardenias. Church decorations were baskets of white snapdragons and stock, white tapers and greenery. A reception in Wesley Hall followed the ceremony.

Following their honeymoon in San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Mann will live on Donner Way in Sacramento. Mrs. Mann, a graduate of Stockton Junior College served in the WAVES for two an a half years. Her husband now associated with the Goodwill Industries in Sacramento, is a graduate of the University of California, was discharged from the army in January with the rank of technical sergeant after serving three years.

Grants Use Of Forest Service Lot For Parking

Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe National Forest has granted permission to the city to use the lot on lower Broad Street, belonging to the forest service for parking space provided trees and shrubs planted there are not injured.

City Engineer Edw. C. Uren states that the lot measures 70x100 feet with an entrance on Union Street, and should accommodate about 20 cars. He says that it is handy to the business district and should be very much appreciated by car owners, since Broad Street is much congested usually during business hours.

Disconted Beaver Move Into Sierraville

Peter Land, Sierraville ranger reporting to Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe National Forest yesterday stated that the beaver planted on Cotton Creek a few monhs ago dissatisfied with the location twelve miles away where they were first planted and have moved down to set up house keeping in Randolph, a suburb of Sierraville, Sierra County.

He said the beaver planted on Smithneck Creek near Loyalton have multiplied and have built a dam 50 feet wide across the stream and over six feet high. He stated the plant was made three years ago. Grazing along the borders of the stream has greatly improved, trout have increased and last spring two pairs of mallard ducks nested there and reared broods of young. The water run off has been delayed by three weeks due to the beavers' retaining dam.

NEVADA CITY

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
—AND—
FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Cement Hill Mining Co. of Rolfe and Stranahan who had commenced washing in their claims newly fitted up for hydraulicing, were opening the face of the bank and had most excellent prospects. These were new claims and promised to be as rich as they were extensive.

Lester and Mulloy had received a new kind of sugar. Of the same quality and selling at the same price as crushed sugar, it was made in small cubes for convenient table use.

The dryest joke of the season occurred at the Baptist Church in Iowa Falls. Several candidates were arranged in front of the font and the congregation was in the most solemn mood when upon lifting the trap door covering the font it was discovered to be dry. A little hole in the corner indicated where the water had gone. The ceremony was postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCurnin of this city were the proud parents of a baby boy.

Z. P. Davis of this city had just finished a neat single barreled breech loading shot gun. It shot with great force and precision and was very light and just the thing for a long hunt.

A. Goldsmith announced a yardage sale at his store at the corner of Broad and Pine Sts. The best calico sold at ten yards for a dollar, brown and bleached muslin one bit a yard.

50 YEARS AGO

A Sunday School concert was presented by the children of the Methodist Church. Great credit for its overwhelming success was due to the committee in charge headed by Miss Rachel Morgan and assisted by Miss Annie Clemo, Racine Murchie, Mrs. W. C. Gray, Miss Jessie Hathaway, Mr. Wm. H. Andrews and Supt. M. Thomas who acted as master of ceremonies. Miss Harry was accompanist for the little singers and choir. Appearing on the program were: Flora, Edna and Gertrude Gray, Bertha Myers, Mary Hoskins, Blanch Trewhella, Elsie Bond, Maud Jennings, Edna Ramsey, Elizabeth Harper, Edith Thomas, Martin Thomas, Evelyn Wells, Alice Murchie, Sadie Snell, Jessie Cook, Maud Langman, Eleanor Valentine, Janie Sandow, Annie Plummer, Evelyn Reynolds, Antone Boardman, Josie Durst, Alice Munro and Katie Nankervis.

Fred Zeitler, Joseph Fetz, Chris Mallen and Fred Searls went to Michigan Bluff to see the American Bar Mine in which they were interested.

Hung Hi, one of the best known Chinese of this city died in the rear of his store of heart failure. Fifteen paid mourners were summoned from San Francisco and Marysville to attend the funeral.

The two little Ragan children injured in a runaway were getting along satisfactorily under the care of Dr. Sawyer.

Mrs. John Smith was quite sick at her home in Park Avenue.

Grass Valley City Council Names Commissioner

The Grass Valley City Council at its March meeting adopted the curfew ordinance enacted recently by the board of supervisors for the county, and adopted two commissions, one for city planning and another for war memorials.

Among other matters the council decided to offer a reward for the thief who stole the fire department's squad truck Sunday night and badly damaged it in a collision with the Briggs Service Station and residence at the corner of Race and South Auburn Streets.

The curfew ordinance requires children unattended by parents or guardians to be off the streets by 10:30 p. m. The county ordinance covers only unincorporated areas.

The council decided to inquire into repairs and improvements needed in Memorial Park buildings and the municipal pool and bath house. The council will not extend sewer mains to residential sections outside the present city boundaries.

It was also to witness a demonstration of parking meters before giving consideration to their installation here.

The city council reinstituted the city planning commission and appointed as members of it, Gilbert Tennis, city superintendent of schools, Larry Myers, business man, C. B. Grenfell, insurance broker, Gilbert Cramer, garage owner and agent for motor cars and Carlos McGuire, civil engineer.

Dan C. Stewart addressed the council on the Alison F. Watt Memorial Fund which has been on deposit with the city for several years, and agreed that a commission should be appointed to make use of the fund. Named on the commission were John R. Thomas, Judge George L. Jones, A. F. Brady, John Blamey and Joseph Hocking. All agreed to serve and in the near future are expected to make recommendations or a memorial to Alison F. Watt. The fund contains $1700. Mrs. Watt bequeathed the money to the city for a memorial to herself several years ago.

SUPERVISORS APPROVE STATE TRAIL SYSTEM

The county board of supervisors acting on the suggestion of Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen and Paul Hughes have endorsed by resolution the construction of the state wide trail system provided for in an act recently signed by Governor Earl Warren.

Hughes stated yesterday that the proposed trail through Nevada County will leave Placer County in the vicinity of Colfax pass into Nevada County by way of Lowell Hill and Nigger Jack Hill, over the Banner into Nevada City, thence to Grass Valley and the lower and western section of the county, noted for its livestock production.

He stated that the trail system, aside from its primary purpose of affording new and safer routes for sightseers on horseback from which to view the state's scenic resources, will be a boon to stockmen driving sheep and cattle to and from the high Sierra pastures. Hughes owns and operates the Jopomavi Stables in Glenbrook.

Bert Foreman Again Heads N. C. Chamber

Approximately 70 members of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night gathered in the National Hotel banquet room and re-elected H. S. Foreman as president for the coming year in one of the most enthusiastic and liveliest meetings held in many years by the chamber.

Charles Veale, candidate for vice-president with no opposition was elected with 59 votes. Directors elected for the new term included: Frank G. Finnegan, Carl Foote, Arthur B. Innis, Mrs. A. C. Presley, Robert L. Tamblyn and Alvin W. Walthers.

Judge George W. Gildersleeve, H. P. Davis and J. F. Siegfried were in charge of counting the ballots.

After a discussion concerning the Nevada City Airport during which City Clerk George H. Calanan rendered a report on the city treasury for the past several years.

It was decided to hold an airport benefit dance in Nevada City and the cooperation of all citizens was asked. Charles Veale, Mrs. Harold Deeter and Robert L. Tamblyn were appointed as members of the committee for the dance.

Nevada City Resident Weds Pasadena Girl

Miss Elnora Berryhill of Pasadena and Clifford H. Masterson of Nevada City were married Saturday in Reno by the justice of the peace in the city hall there.

Attending tthe pair were the bride's mother, Mrs. Fay Berryhill and the bridegroom's father, William Masterson. The couple will make their home in Pasadena.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Nevada City high school. He was discharged last month from the U. S. Army Air Corps after serving 3 years.

Fire Threatens Blue Tent Home

A chimney fire that threatened the home of John Vogelsang on the Blue Tent Road was extinguished in the nick of time yesterday shortly after noon by the Nevada City fire department and state forestry division with pumper trucks. Two women in the house battled the flames with garden hose with considerable success, but smoke finally drove them from the attic, just as the fire trucks arrived. Flames bursting through the roof were quickly extinguished. Damage was nominal.

Large Revenue From Grass Valley Dogs

The city clerk of Grass Valley reports that 426 dog licenses have been issued to date. Date on which the license period expires is March 15th. After that owners of dogs without licenses are liable to a fine of $25.

Tom Hocking, grounds attendant for the Nevada County Golf Club, has paid a $50 fine imposed by Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse for selling beer without a license. A license to sell beer costs $25 a year. The arrest was made by Russell Farley law enforcement officer for the State Board of Equalization.

STEEL WORKERS WON BUT 108 MILLIONS LOST

By Ralph H. Taylor

Who won, in the great steel strike?

Who lost?

The strikers with the prestige and power of the government behind them won their fight for a big pay boost. So they came out ahead—apparently. Then steel manufacturers proved to the government that they couldn't pay the wage increase without increasing the price of steel. So the government pegged up steel price ceilings.

The plain fact of the matter is, therefore that everybody in America lost in that steel strike. The farmer, the professional man, the white collar worker—all workers of the steel industry, union and non-union—lost by that strike. The rest of us take a cut in income to make possible the steel industry wage boost.

If that sounds like mere theory, but let's get down to cases:

A dairy industry bulletin reports that the cost of dairy boilers used for sterilizing milk cans, will go up $22—from $168 to $190—as a result of the steel hike. Stepped up similarly must be the costs of all farm machinery and equipment made of steel—and the farming industry will have to buy enormous quantities of equipment to replace that worn out during the war years.

So it will cost the farmer more to produce foodstuffs. His profits will be cut by these costs. That will be his contribution to the pay envelopes of steel workers.

The process won't stop there. It cannot. If farmers are to continue in business, they will inevitably have to get higher prices for their products so they can pay for higher priced equipment.

Higher prices for farm products will mean higher food costs for every man, woman and child in America. Subsidies may in part disguise this added drain on family living budgets. But whether the levy be paid in increased taxes to finance subsidies, or directly paid in restaurants, grocery stores, butcher shops and bakeries, all families will contribute to the pay envelopes of steel workers.

More than that: Because of the steel price rise, every housewife will contribute from her household budget to the pay envelopes of steel workers when she buys a saucepan, a broiler, a sewing machine, or a toy train of jacknife or other steel toy for her children. And every man will make like contribution when he buys an automobile, a set of carpenter tools or a steel filing cabinet for his office.

It is clearly evident that every American outside the steel industry took a cut in his own income because of steel workers got a stiff boost in wages—the cut being represented by the extra dime here and dollar there that he must put out to buy goods at boosted prices.

Then what- In time, inevitably, this added cost of living for everybody will cause pressure for wage increases in scores of non-steel industries. Unions in other fields will strike for more money—and probably get it. This will force manufacturing costs, and therefore prices to consumers upward all along the line.

Now let's go back to our victorious steel workers. What will be their position at the end of this cycle? Why, steel workers are consumers like all the rest of us. The cumulative upward spiral in living costs which they started will have caught up with them—will have wiped out the benefits they thought they gained. Their wage increases will have been completely absorbed by the swollen cost of living.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Our town has a Housing Shortage

Yes, sir, there's a real housing shortage in our town, as I guess there is in yours, too.

Keefer Cole, for instance, is sharing his home with a brother-in-law from Connecticut. Six children and a dog in one family; four children and three cats in the other.

I asked Keefer how they got along together—especially the grown-ups. Didn't they get a little edgey from the noise and crowding?

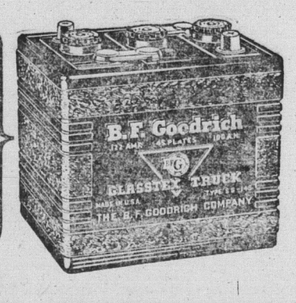

Keefer looks at me with a twinkle. "Sure," he says. "And when that happens, Sara and I just pass around four sparkling glasses of good beer ... and that reminds everybody that there are still a lot of friendly, gracious pleasures that can help us make the best of things."

From where I sit, it's great to be able to relax during this strain of postwar living with a beverage that's truly moderate and wholesome, truly friendly.

GRASS VALLEY

Once again we can say

"NEXT TIME, TRY THE TRAIN"

At long last we can see our way out of the woods. No longer is there a backlog of veterans waiting for transportation to their homes. The peak movement seems to be definitely over.

We want to sincerely thank all the civilians who refrained from traveling to make room for these men. And we want to point out that now some space is available on some Southern Pacific trains for you who wish to travel.

In other words, we can say "Next time, try the train", but as yet we can't say it very loud.

There is now quite a bit of space available in coaches and chair cars. Sleeping car space is tighter in comparison, but considerably more plentiful than it was, especially on certain trains.

Please call us if you're planning a trip anywhere. We'll do our best to get you the reservations you want.

No time limit on reservations

On and after March 15, you can make reservations as far in advance as you wish. The ODT order requiring you to make them no more than 14 days in advance has been repealed.

Three meals a day!

Dining cars on Southern Pacific trains are now serving three meals a day instead of two.

More improvements on the way

With our heavy war load easing, we will soon speed up trains and return the lounge cars and other refinements in service that we had to discontinue during the war.

Meanwhile we are going full speed ahead with an ambitious program of new streamlined trains that will be the finest the world has ever seen.

PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITY

The people of this community expect the best of Greyhound.

This is as it should be. For when this company undertook, and performed, the job of building a modern, first-class local transportation system between you and your neighbor cities and towns, it also accepted, without reservation, the great responsibility that goes with providing a vital public service.

On the strength of its outstanding leadership and its established record of performance, people have a right to expect Greyhound to be the first in everything connected with bus transportation. Greyhound believes that it has lived up to these expectations . . . that it has proved its deep sense of public responsibility.
